Liquid Gold Exhibition: Join the Sacramento History Museum for their new exhibition! Opening this Saturday, June 1st and uncap the history of breweries during the Gold Rush. Discover the incredible 100 years of brewing in Sacramento and learn about the region's leaders in craft beer. See artifacts on loan from the Sacramento Room of the Sacramento Public Library, Ruhstaller and New Helvetia breweries and explore over a century of beer-making filled with local stories and the people who paved the way to what we experience in today's brew pubs. Sacramento's Brew History runs through July 22, 2024.

June 1st – Island Girl Art by Rhean Goodgame: Immerse yourself in "Island Girl Art," a painting and jewelry exhibition by Rhean Goodgame. Meet the artist with an exclusive interview and sip complimentary wine at this free event in Old Sacramento. Born on the Caribbean Island of Tobago, Goodgame's upbringing amidst lush tropical landscapes has nurtured her artistic vision, infusing her work with a profound appreciation for nature's kaleidoscopic beauty. Growing up on an island has instilled a practice of utilizing available resources. From repurposing and incorporating discarded materials into her artworks and adopting eco-friendly art-making practices, each piece embodies a commitment to environmental stewardship and mindful creativity. Sustainability lovers and art collectors alike are invited to the exhibition's opening night on June 1st.

The exhibition runs from June 1st until July 28th, 2024 at Atrium 916. For more information, click here.
